Mrs. Banta said this subject was under investigation by Calgary's Chamber of Commerce Education Committee under convenor Grant MacEwan, so the secretary was asked to contact the CCC and see if their report is available and being so will be compared with the conclusions arrived at in the Discussion groups.

Smith-Alexander Families United

CROSSFIELD—On June 20, 1953, at 2:30 p.m., a very pretty wedding was solemnized at the Crossfield Regular Baptist Church when Miss Jean Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd J. Smith of Crossfield became the bride of Mr. Harvey Alexander of Calgary. Rev. Wm. J. MacDonald officiated. The church was decorated with pink and white streamers and bouquets of lilacs.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length white satin gown and three-quarter length veil. Her only jewelry was a rhinestone necklace and she carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses and gladioli.

To the strains of Lohengrin's "Wedding March," played by Mrs. Neil Smith, three bridesmaids preceded her down the aisle. They were Mrs. Earl Tilllemen, sister of the bride, Miss Eunice Smith and Miss Joan Alexander. They wore similarly styled gowns of taffeta in pastel shades of mauve, yellow and green and matching headbands. Their bouquets were carnations tinted to match the gowns. The lovely little flower girl, Mary Lou Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Smith, was dressed in a floor length gown of pink taffeta and carried a white basket filled with spring flowers.

The groom's attendants were Mr. Roy Alexander, Mr. Wm. Fawcett and Mr. Geo. Driediger. The charming little ring bearer was Barry Wray, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Wray.

During the signing of the register Mrs. Neil Smith sang "Together" accompanied by Miss Margaret Crawford.

A reception for 175 guests was held in the dining room of the Crossfield Community Hall. The room was decorated in mauve and yellow streamers and the tables centred with bouquets of lilacs. The bride's table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake flanked by beautiful bouquets.

During the reception Miss Eunice Smith played an accordian solo, "O Promise Me," Miss Joan Alexander sang "To My Bride" and Mrs. Norman Charter of Three Hills sang, "Under His Wings." Two telegrams were read. Rev. MacDonald proposed the toast to which the bride and groom made very suitable replies.

For the honeymoon in Banff, Jasper and Edmonton, the bride wore a grey suit with mauve accessories. On their return, they will reside in Calgary.

UNITED CHURCH SCENE OF WEST-SCHOFIELD WEDDING

CROSSFIELD—As if by magic, after a month's gloomy weather in Crossfield, the sky cleared and the sun shone brightly to gladden the hearts of Gladys Louise, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Schofield, Crossfield, and Donald Frank James, only son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. West, Lacombe, as they repeated wedding vows before the altar of the United Church, flanked with peonies, carnations and scattered lilac, Saturday, July 4, at 4 p.m.

Rev. Ball, Calgary, officiated at the ceremony, and the bride, given in marriage by her father entered the aisle to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march with Mrs. W. W. Donaldson, Forestburg, aunt of the bride, at the keyboard.

For her wedding the bride chose a white floor-length gown in redingote style of fine figured nylon marquisette lace over net over satin. The strapless bodice was enhanced with a delicate lace bolero, featuring a front row of covered buttons, Peter Pan collar, and lily point sleeves. The skirt held a bouffant sweep of filmy nylon net over satin and was covered in redingote fashion with graceful contours of marquisette lace. Her lovely illusion net veil was bordered with tiny roses and edged with sheer lace. An orange blossom headdress was held in place with folds of the veil which was misted to finger-tip. She carried a cascade of sweetheart red roses and wore a lovely rhinestone necklace, the gift of the groom.

During the signing of the register Mrs. Neil Smith sang "Together" accompanied by Miss Margaret Crawford.

A reception for 175 guests was held in the dining room of the Crossfield Community Hall. The room was decorated in mauve and yellow streamers and the tables centred with bouquets of lilacs. The bride's table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake flanked by beautiful bouquets.

During the reception Miss Eunice Smith played an accordian solo, "O Promise Me," Miss Joan Alexander sang "To My Bride" and Mrs. Norman Charter of Three Hills sang, "Under His Wings." Two telegrams were read. Rev. MacDonald proposed the toast to which the bride and groom made very suitable replies.

For the honeymoon in Banff, Jasper and Edmonton, the bride wore a grey suit with mauve accessories. On their return, they will reside in Calgary.

During the signing of the register, the bride's uncle Mr. George Cox of Lethbridge offered the beautiful baritone vocal selection, "Bless This House." He was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Ellen Hodgson, Springbank.

The bridal party received their guests in the Community hall where the reception was prepared by the WA of the United Church for 65 guests. For this occasion the bride's mother wore a rosewood afternoon model of lace graced with yellow rose corsage. The groom's mother chose a taffeta afternoon gown in copper tone complemented with yellow rose corsage also.

The M.C. Mr. George Jones, welcomed all present and extended best wishes to the happy couple. In the course of the reception he called on Mr. West, father of the groom to toast the bride to which the groom suitably responded. Mr. G. A. Stiles then toasted the honored couple in a few well-chosen words and the best man gave the response. Mr. J. P. Metheral, the bride's grandfather arose to offer his best wishes to bride and groom.

For a two weeks holiday in Banff and other points of interest in Canada and the States, the bride donned a teal blue suit to match that of her husband's and complement her wardrobe of travel with red accessories. On their return they will reside in Lacombe.

THESE CHILDREN LEARN THREE R's IN HOSPITAL - NOT IN SCHOOL

Unlike many children who attend their local schools, the patients in the Alberta Red Cross Crippled Children's hospital school should have no fear of not passing into the next grade. A Department of Education report on the school commends it most highly with the inspector's words, "I do not know of any school anywhere that achieves its purpose more fully."

Five fulltime paid teachers, two volunteer teachers, three music teachers, five story-tellers, six letter writers and 20 handicraft teachers instruct the patients in Grades I through XII. The school works in conjunction with the Correspondence School Branch to provide the children with education from the day they enter hospital until they leave. When the children return home they may continue the correspondence lessons, if necessary, or return to day school.

Patients at the hospital school begin their studies after a medical staff consultation so that the treatment of the child's disability is not interfered with.

The classes are carried on either in the regular wards or in special classrooms, with equipment such as orthopedic desks, bed desks and special tables used to give the children maximum comfort.

Classes are in session from 9:45 a.m. to 11:15 a.m. and from 1 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. The teachers move from classrooms to wards as the needs arise. While the pupils have the correspondence lessons as guides, instruction is complete in all subjects. The teachers mark the lessons from I to VI, the other lessons are marked in Edmonton.

Difficulties arise continually as the enrolment is changing constantly. However, as soon as a child arrives his abilities are estimated and he is given work accordingly.

The attitude of the regular and special teachers is such that the pupils are most happy in spite of their disabilities and their education is actually more "many-sided" than that in the public schools," says the inspector. "Progress in the skills compares very favorably with what is found elsewhere, while primary reading is actually superior. A school like this is a credit to all parties concerned."

The inspector's report continues that the services at the hospital school cannot be estimated in ordinary terms and that actually the training in the school, with the feeling of achievement and self-confidence it inspires in the pupils, is a very important part of the whole rehabilitation program.

The Provincial Department of Education gives a grant of $1000 per year per paid school teacher, with Red Cross making up the remainder. In 1952, the government grant was $3000, but to augment this, Red Cross expenses in giving the children the education they require amounted to $9,841.41 for salaries and $1,310.41 for supplies, a total of $11,151.82.

Child, Ten, Becomes Mother Of Baby Girl

YOUNGSTOWN, O.—The superintendent of a home for unwed mothers said here a 10-year-old girl gave birth to a baby girl.

Mrs. Estner Stuhlfire, superintendent of the Florence Crittenton home, said the young mother came to the home in February and before that had lived with foster parents in the Youngstown area.

In Chicago, a spokesman for the American Medical Association said the age of 10 years would be considered "very young for motherhood".

The association keeps no official records on such cases, but at least two American girls of that age are known to have become mothers through a full-term, normal birth.

In May, 1939, news reports from Lima, Peru, told of an Indian girl five years of age giving birth to a boy weighing nearly six pounds, with the delivery by surgery.

Mr. James Patrick, who attended the Youngstown birth, said the delivery was normal. The baby weighed five pounds, 14 1/2 ounces.

The superintendent described the girl as five feet, three inches tall, and weighing 115 pounds, adding that she was well developed physically.

New Fence For United Church

CROSSFIELD — The garden club members and their leader, Mrs. Virgie Laut, together with several interested gentlemen, including Mr. F. Laut, Bob Hanson and A. Bailey were instrumental in building a very nice wooden fence with a wire enclosure (donated by Mr. W. Laut), around the United Church shrub and flower gardens. This has greatly improved the appearance of the church as they also contributed a coat of white paint. It is hoped that this enclosure will allow the gardens an unobstructed growth from small fry who have hitherto destroyed many and rare shrubs. Many thanks go to these willing workers.

Minister For United Church Replaced

CROSSFIELD—Rev. and Mrs. Dovey left Crossfield in their trailer on Friday last; their family Marcia and Billy were very excited at a trip through the mountains in their travelling home. They plan to visit Mr. Dovey's aged parents for a time before wending their way to Belville, where Rev. Dovey has accepted a charge in Eastern Canada.

Rev. Dovey was replaced by Rev. Pringle from Oyen, who arrived with Mrs. Pringle on Saturday, July 4 and preached his first sermon the following Sunday. We would like to welcome Rev. and Mrs. Pringle to our community.

Major Tragedy In Edmonton RCAF Flier's Coolness Averts

A cool RCAF pilot averted a later possible major tragedy about noon Monday when he crash-landed a B-17 Flying Fortress in a 100-foot space between a house and a railway track in Calder on Edmonton's northern outskirts.

The pilot, Eqdn. Ldr. A. B. C. Weatherwax, suffered superficial injuries. He was alone in the aircraft, which has a wing span of approximately 65 feet.

The plane had just taken off from the municipal airport when one or both engines failed, disabling the craft.

Eye-witness said that the pilot, apparently spotting the small clearing, sent the plane into sharp left turn to make the forced-landing.

They said that if he had continued in a straight course he might have come down on houses.

The pilot hit the side of the embankment of the main CNR line and skidded down it into a gully. The CNR's westbound trans-continental passenger train passed over the tracks about 20 minutes

PRIME MINISTER DENIES NEW SECRETARY IS SUCCESSOR

OTTAWA — Prime Minister St. Laurent has denied reports that he had chosen State Secretary J. W. Pickersgill to be his successor as prime minister and leader of the Liberal party.

The prime minister was commenting in an interview on a recent newspaper speculation that he had already in his own mind chosen Mr. Pickersgill to follow him in the two positions.

Mr. St. Laurent referred to a letter written to former state secretary F. Gordon Bradley of Newfoundland in which the prime minister described Mr. Pickersgill as a "junior minister to assist me". The letter was made public Friday when the prime minister announced the Aug. 10 general election date and Mr. Pickersgill's succession to Mr. Bradley.

Mr. St. Laurent indicated that he had had no intention that the phrase "junior minister" should be read "deputy prime minister".

He pointed out that the Liberal party has a long established tradition of selecting its leaders at party national conventions.

In Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan, a train smacked James Ermatinger's automobile on the left side, spun it around and then smashed it again on the right side; the driver suffered minor injuries.

The Fighting Mouse

One of the most surprising developments of the whole messy Korean war, now over three years, old, is the continuing antagonism of Syngman Rhee, the Korean President, to the truce negotiations.

Theoretically, the war would be over if it weren't for the bitter fighting do-or-die spirit of the South Koreans. Invaded by the North Koreans in 1950 and almost beaten in spite of the help of the entire United Nations, the weakling South Korean army has become a "mighty mouse" among the nations of the world.

Wrong as we think the Republic of Korea is in opposing an armistice, and weak as it still undoubtedly is because of lack of natural resources, the little war-torn nation is to be admired for this display of spirit. They want the war to continue until North Korea and South Korea are one single nation.

How long, we wonder, can the ROKS hold out against the combined wills of the Communists and United Nations for an end to the fighting?

Justice Has Triumphed

Two weeks ago, in an editorial in this page, we pointed out to our readers the gross inequality of justice in two recent court decisions on homicide. We stressed the fact that Lorang Sorum, guilty of deliberately killing one man in Edmonton should not be hung for his crime when another man, Alex Standing-at-the-door was given only ten years in prison for bringing death to a whole group of people by deliberate means.

We are gratified, therefore, to note that the death sentence imposed on Lorang Sorum, former University of Alberta student scheduled to be hanged July 7 for the murder of an Edmonton oil executive, has been commuted to life imprisonment.

This is a victory for Justice in Alberta, and Lorang Sorum will be spared to live out his natural life in the penitentiary where he can be given some useful work to do.

It is time Canadian justice was brought up to date by abolishing the death penalty altogether. In the case of murder, it is pretty hard to define any criminal as sane, because how could a sane mind plot to take the life of another? The most revolting crimes are usually committed by the obviously insane. But we spare the life of a so-called "insane" criminal found guilty of taking the life of another and hang the others. The fear of the death penalty hasn't stopped men like Lorang Sorum from committing murder. So the death penalty should be abolished from our criminal code.

Males: The Weaker Sex

Dr. Einer Perman, head surgeon of a large Stockholm hospital, says the male sex is much weaker than the female. The surgeon's statement is similar to others of that nature made by prominent doctors and surgeons for many years.

The female sex has proven superior in many tests of endurance and males have proven less durable and less flexible. This is apparently borne out by the average life span of men and women, men dying at an earlier age, on the average.

Dr. Perman advises the average male to let his wife run the house and wash the dishes. Men, he says, should relax when they come home from work and should take as many naps as possible. This is the advice many men have long awaited, although they may have difficulty in following it.

Watch Out For Hail!

Already the Alberta Hail Insurance Board reports hundreds of claims coming in for Hail Damage to the 1953 crop. During June nearly every second day brought hail damage to one Alberta district or another.

But it is still not too late for thousands of farmers to get Hail Insurance before a hail storm wipes out their year's investment. There are insurance agents in just about every town, village and hamlet. And it is still better to have Hail Insurance and not need it than to need it and not have it.

Provincial Liquor Laws Need Overhauling

From the Leduc Representative

Rarely in the past has our provincial government laid itself open to a charge of hypocrisy in its legislation; mistakes there have been, and political opponents have not been slow to point them out, but they have for the most part been honest mistakes, based on sincere attempts to remedy conditions as they existed. Unfortunately, this cannot be said of the manner in which the government is pussyfooting around the matter of liquor legislation. The amendments as recently brought down in the legislature are merely designed to remove a few of the more outstanding errors in phrasing which should never have appeared in the first place, and also to extend the hours of sale of liquor, at the discretion of the control board; they do nothing to remove the ridiculous regulations and controls which make Alberta liquor laws a figure of fun even in a country which, at no place or time, has shown outstanding wisdom in dealing with the question. In addition, the premier is obviously, within his legal rights in refusing to divulge the report of the "unofficial" commission which investigated the whole problem last year, but his moral grounds are a little more uncertain. The legislature, and the people of the province, have a right to know what conclusions were reached by the investigators and what recommendations were made, even if they are not to be implemented by the government.

The present regulations permit mixed drinking in Alberta everywhere except in the cities of Calgary and Edmonton, we understand. We don't know if experience has shown that mixed drinking is good or bad; furthermore, we couldn't care less. But if the principle is good in Cochrane it should be all right in Calgary; and if it is bad in Edmonton it seems to us that it would be equally bad in Edson. The government exercises strict control over the sale of liquor, which is as it should be, and as a result of this control it reaps many millions of dollars of revenue each year; yet the whole purpose of liquor legislation seems to be to make the purchase and use of liquor a more or less clandestine and disreputable business, the only good point being the profits which emerge therefrom. No liquor advertising is permitted in the province — yet every magazine and periodical which comes in the Eastern Canada, B.C., or the United States is filled with such advertising and no attempt is or could be made to control it.

In dealing with the whole problem, the government has not shown the courage or honesty with which they have faced up to other problems or which the people of the province have a right to expect from their elected representatives. Away with such half measures and remedies which cure nothing. Let's have an honest and clear-cut policy, in line with the wishes of the people as a whole, whatever such wishes may be; if the government does not know what the people want, we suggest that they conduct a plebiscite to find out. This hypocritical pussyfooting around the edge of an admittedly controversial subject does not increase respect for the powers that be at Edmonton.

A Sensible Move

Starting this month, employees of the Alberta Government, including Treasury Branches, will enjoy a five-day work week. About 4,000 will be affected and if they have to work an extra hour a day to make up for the half-day off on Saturday, it will be worth it.

It is difficult for Government and Industry to maintain full staffs of competent employees these days. Naturally good workers hire themselves out to employers who pay the best wages and have the better conditions. An important feature of improvement along this line is the institution of a five-day work week. It gives the employee one full day, unbroken by office or shop hours, to enjoy work or play in the great outdoors.

ROK AND RYE

Voice of the People

WANTS CHANGE IN POLICY

When Malenkov said in his inaugural address, "There are not any, and there will not be any question which cannot be resolved by peaceful means," he presented a challenge to the West of more danger than at first suspected. The statement is clear-cut and definite and quite consistent with his former statements. He said in 1950 on the occasion of Stalin's 70th birthday, "Russia is now surrounded for the first time in history with friendly nations in both Europe and Asia . . . the Soviet Union struggles for world peace. Russia urges peace, and we do not fear competition with capitalism. Stalin himself said last October, in the closing session of the party congress, "The interests of our party, not only do not contradict, but on the contrary merge with the interests of peace-loving peoples everywhere." It is the increased emphasis which Malenkov gives to these statements which now constitutes a grave and real threat to the Western world.

It is clear the new Russian government is moving with vigor to end the cold-war, and to place the responsibility for its continuance on the U.S. In Korea, the Chinese and North Koreans have accepted the Allies' terms for an armistice, and Russia is steadily modifying her attitude toward Western Europe, East Germany, Yugoslavia, Austria, and is bidding for trade and commercial relations with Britain and the Commonwealth, with Iran and Turkey. She has released 2,000,000 prisoners and is opening up her borders to correspondents for free unhampered trips through Russia. Communism could become much more dangerous under its new leaders in several ways. First, it can lose some of its totalitarian nature and become more of a group government or oligarchy, giving more freedoms of criticism and speech, individual ownership of lands and more material goods, thus cutting away much of the basis of our superior appeal. Second, the opening of the "iron curtain" indicates that Russia proper, in the view of the present leaders, has made considerable progress under communism and will compare favorably with the countries of the West, and will accordingly be attractive to the people of France and Italy, etc. Third, Malenkov's peace program is confirming the idea that war is not likely, which means the cutting of armaments costs, of help to Europe and possible recession in business, perhaps a depression.

Fourth, for years the Russian leaders have made it plain that they expect the economic collapse of the capitalist world, and now they are sure that that collapse is at hand, and are preparing to capitalize on the gathering trade rivalries by offering attractive trade propositions.

Fifth, they are preparing to hold communism as the great liberator of the dependent classes.

If the USSR is to keep its leadership it will adopt the lead given so eloquently by President Eisenhower in his great speech, and change its tactics to a positive constructive policy leading to the rebuilding of the world, the lifting of the under-privileged in the lands still considered within the orbit of the free world, otherwise she will find a steadily developing resistance to her unilateral leadership, and a greater and greater emphasis on the United Nations under the guidance of Britain and the Commonwealth.

LETTER TO LOUISA

Ignores Girl Friend In Daytime Still Wants Her To Go On Dates

Dear Louisa:

I've been staying in town during this term of school. I have gone out with a few boys but now I am in love with a boy of twenty. He said he loves me but during the day when I see him he seems as if he is mad at me. He said he would like me to go out with him during the summer holidays. I would like to go out with him but I don't want my parents to know about me going out. Do you think I should tell my parents? My brothers approve of it but my parents don't.

Elizabeth

Answer:

Dear Elizabeth:

There are three things wrong with your situation.

First, although you state it last, the fact that you haven't told your parents of this boy friend is the most unfortunate part of your problem. A young lady such as you, living at home, should have no reason for keeping this information from your parents. Why don't you get your brothers to invite him to your home and meet your parents?

Secondly, I doubt very much if

School For Deaf Urged For Alberta

EDMONTON (BUP)—The Alberta Association for the Deaf has met Hon. A. Aalborg, Minister of Education, urging the establishment of a residential school for deaf children in Alberta.

The delegation, headed by K. J. Mitchell of Calgary, president of the association, included D. S. Murison, Calgary, and Mrs. R. B. Whishart and E. Kane, of Edmonton.

The delegation expressed the hardship, both to parents and children of sending deaf children out of the province for their education.

Edmonton To Send Delegation To Watch Tower Convention

Edmonton will be represented by a delegation of more than 550 at the International Convention of Jehovah's Witnesses, Yankee Stadium, New York City, Mr. J. Rudko, presiding minister here and head of the delegation, announced today that the group will travel by special train, plane and automobile to join more than 125,000 other witnesses of Jehovah in their 8-day convention opening July 9.

Mr. Rudko pointed out that Jehovah's witnesses are coming from every province in Canada and nearly 100 countries to participate in the largest religious convention ever to be held in America.

Charter planes carrying delegates from Africa, Europe and Latin America will soon converge on New York. Large delegations from Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and the Orient are already on the high seas. Some 18,000 Canadians are expected to attend.

Sandwiches 30 Cents In Beer Parlors

Even if your friend doesn't drink, he can now order a sandwich if he accompanies you to a Hotel Beer Parlor. A. J. Mason announced the new regulations which took effect July 1st.

Accordingly, beer parlors must serve sandwiches, and the maximum price of a sandwich will be 30 cents. The Beverage Dispensers' Union previously opposed serving of sandwiches in beer parlors but Mr. Mason said he did not anticipate any trouble over the move.

In licensed premises, beer will be sold only in one-dozen and half-dozen cartons. New beer parlor prices are $3.30 for a dozen and $1.70 for a half dozen, compared to the previous prices of $3.24 for a dozen and $1.68 for a half dozen.

Price of beer purchased at the vendors will not be changed.

Says Farmers Pad' Acreage

BRANDON — The vice-president of Manitoba Pool Elevators, George McConnell, charged here that the whole quota system of the Canadian wheat board is being undermined by farmers padding their acreage.

He told the Manitoba Federation of Agriculture's annual convention that some farmers claim larger acreages than they have sown for quota purposes.

According to permit books at the elevators there are close to 125,000 bushels of grain still to be delivered, but actually all the grain is in, he said.

If the padding keeps up, the board will have to abandon its system, Mr. McConnell said.

Search For Uranium

EDMONTON — Four Alberta Research Council geologists will investigate mineral possibilities of the pre-Cambrian shield where this belt of rock touches the north-eastern corner of the province. The party left by plane this week for the area north of Lake Athabasca, where a find of high-grade uranium was reported several months ago.

POET'S CORNER

MEMORIES

When I go home I gaze around
The dear familiar, childhood ground,
And ponder at the beauty still
Of every little path and hill.

The dear old home is just the same,
Though others see its weathered frame,
I only see it at its best,
Sheltering a happy family nest.

I tread once more the winding stairs,
Where wafted down our childhood prayers,
Gaze out a window, to the west
Where purple hills forever rest.

And folks who live there, laugh and say
I weave a golden screen that way.
That keeps each lovely memory so;
Things stay the same as long ago.

I know of course it's really true,
But it's the things folks always do,
We pause for just a little while,
To reminisce, on life's long mile.

And onward plod, refreshed once more,
To face what life has in its store.
For life is hard when one has grown,
And all their childhood dreams have flown.

— BERYL RASMUSSEN.

A. T. Baker Of Nemiscam Is New Alberta Wheat Pool Manager

A. T. Baker, of Nemiscam, has been appointed manager of the Alberta Wheat Pool. In making the announcement, Ben S. Plumer, chairman of the board of directors, stated:

"Shortly after the passing of R. D. Purdy, former manager, T. E. Oliver was appointed acting manager of the Alberta Wheat Pool. Because of Mr. Oliver's health and the heavy responsibilities involved the board of directors have decided to appoint A. T. Baker manager of the organization. Mr. Oliver will continue as assistant to Mr. Baker.

"Mr. Baker has been a director of the Alberta Wheat Pool since 1945 and vice-chairman during the past three years. He is a young man whose farm background, business training and experience in Pool affairs equip him for the position."

Albert T. Baker was born in Illinois and is the eldest son of Perren Baker, who was minister of education in the UFA government of Alberta. The Baker family came to Alberta in 1910 when the homestead rush was on and the father filed on land at Nemiscam, which is on the Lethbridge-Manitoulin line of the Canadian Pacific Railway, about 60 miles southwest of Medicine Hat.

Albert T. Baker now operates the family farm which has grown to nine sections of land, is fully mechanized and has thousands of acres under crop each year. He was educated at the local school at Nemiscam, at high school in Edmonton and at the University of Alberta from which he graduated in 1928, after which he took over the management of the farm. He was married in 1933 to Agnes

St. Laurent and Malik Chat About Mistakes

CHATHAM, Ont. (BUP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent told a Liberal rally here of a chat he had with Jacob Malik when the Russian ambassador sat in front of him in Westminster Abbey at the Coronation.

"I got the impression that he was very much impressed by that great ceremony," Mr. St. Laurent said.

"Later, I met him at a reception and told him of my impressions. He said he had watched it very closely.

"I said something of the mistakes that have been made by nations. He replied that the only people who make no mistakes are those who do nothing.

"I said I only hoped that when we made mistakes, his country would not think we were making them on purpose. He replied that he hoped the same would apply to mistakes his own country might make, but added:

"However, I must tell you that I think I can rely more on the sincerity of our own people than that of others."

A. T. BAKER

Hippis, of Cochrane, and they have two children—both girls.

Mr. Baker, sr., took an early interest in the farmer movement in Alberta and was elected member of the legislature for the Cypress constituency when the farmer government gained power in the 1921 election. He served as member for Cypress until 1935. Albert followed the example of his father in interesting himself in farm movements and was elected a delegate to the Alberta Wheat Pool in 1941. In 1945 he was elected director for the Lethbridge division in succession to Christian Jensen of Magrath, who served in that capacity for twenty-two years.

Police said details of the accident have not yet been cleared up, as the youth has been unconscious since the time he was found on the outskirts of the town.

The most embarrassing moment in my life took place at school. Our teacher is very strict and he doesn't want us to eat candy in school. Well, this day I had peppermint candies in my shirt pocket. When it was home time our teacher said, "Please pick up the paper on the floor."

As I bent down to pick up the papers, all the candies (18) fell out and went rattling on the floor. The whole class laughed and the teacher said, "You better pick up your candies." I was so embarrassed I couldn't even tell him I didn't want to.

Billy Zarutzky, Mayerthorpe.

About one minute before twelve o'clock midnight New Year's Eve our gang was standing in a group in the hall. I had been bragging to my girlfriend that I was sweet sixteen and never been kissed and would keep my record even on New Year's Eve. One boy in our gang had been listening and turned around to say, "What does Mr. X do, slobber?" Golly was I embarrassed!

THE LIGHTER SIDE

Remarkable!

Schoolmaster — If Shakespeare were alive today, would he still be regarded as a remarkable man?

Pupil — I'd think so, for he'd be over 300 years old.

Sticking To It

Wife — "Mother says she nearly died laughing over those stories you told her."

Hub — "Where is she? I'll tell her some funnier ones."

Smart Scotchman

Two Scotchmen tossed to see who would pay for the dinner. The winner called "Heads". The loser called "Tails!" and escaped in the confusion.

Absurd

Urey — Your absurdity would make a donkey laugh.

Faqua — Yeah, I noticed you was laughing.

The Cure

"What cured him of arguing with his wife?"

"Arguing with his wife".

Hopeless

"How much is a wee tiny small radio, mister?"

"Six dollars, son."

"Gee, that's almost $9 more than I got."

Changed Viewpoint

"Did the voyage cure you of your insomnia?"

"Absolutely."

"Well, that must be a relief."

"It certainly is. Why, I lie awake half the night thinking of how I used to suffer from it."

Musical Calendar

Manager (in music store): How long did you work in the last place?

New Pianist: From 'Dardanelia' to 'Red Sails in the Sunset'.

A lawyer engaged in a case tormented a witness so much with questions, that the poor fellow at last cried out for water.

"There," said the judge, "I thought you would pump him dry."

First Lawyer: I've just taken the case of that woman who says she shot her husband because she loved him.

Second Lawyer: I suppose your plea will be that spring is the time for tender shoots.

A lawyer acquaintance just out of college was pleading his first case. The nasty railroad company had killed twenty-four of his farmer client's hogs. The young lawyer was trying to impress the jury with the magnitude of the injury.

"Imagine twenty-four hogs, gentlemen! Twenty-four! Twice the number there are in the jury box."

The doctor smiled as he entered the room.

"You look much better today."

"Yes, I followed the directions on your medicine bottle."

"What were they?"

"Keep the bottle tightly corked."

Aggrieved One: "She's been throwing things at me ever since we was married."

Magistrate: "Then why have you not complained before?"

Aggrieved One: "This is the first time she's hit me."

"What were you doing about that chicken-coop at midnight, Mose?" the judge asked.

"Jes' circulatin' roun', Judge; jes' circulatin' roun'."

"Clerk, make a notation: 'Withdrawn from circulation for 60 days'."

'Tornado' Hits DeWinton Farm

Russell Evans, a farmer living about six miles west of DeWinton, is convinced a baby "tornado" was responsible for $2,000 worth of damage to his farm recently.

Although weather officials are inclined to believe the "tornado" was just a high wind, Evans said he watched a funnel-shaped cloud rip off his barn roof and toss wagons around the yard. Wooden rafters of the barn were caved in and a number of chickens were killed.

Evans said the funnel-shaped cloud sucked water into the air about 100 feet. He said he had gone for mail when he saw the storm approaching. He was running back toward the farm when the storm passed between him and the buildings.

Just A Man

MASON CITY, Iowa—A woman called police to report: "There's a man in my bath tub. There's no water—just a man." The man, taken to the police station, couldn't explain why he had gone to the home of a strange woman to "take a bath." He was charged with intoxication and fined $10.

Misleading Headline

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—Readers of the Louisville Courier-Journal got a shock when they read the headlines of an advertisement which read: "Forgers Wanted! Make Big Money!" Closer reading showed the ad sought workers for a Harvey (Ill.) forge shop.

Forgets Own Wedding

CALAIS, France—Michael Ledoux, 26-year-old railroad walker, takes the prize for poor memory—he forgot his own wedding. While the bride and the priest and the guests were waiting in the church, Ledoux was peacefully bicycling along a country road. The bride went home in tears and went to bed.

Not So Funny

TACOMA, Wash.—Two teenage boys, who opened a fire hose in Lincoln High School and caused $5,000 damage were ordered to spend the next year working to pay for their "fun." The judge, in placing the boys on probation, ordered them to work for one hour each school day, eight hours each Saturday and school holidays and during all vacations—their earnings are to be turned over to the school.

Modern

Baby-Sitting

JERSEYVILLE, Ill.—Mr. and Mrs. John Wesley have placed a converted walkie-talkie radio set beside the crib of their baby daughter, so that they can work in their grocery across the street from their home while the set acts as baby-sitter. A microphone beside the crib picks up the sounds when she awakens from her nap and one of the parents goes home to attend her.

Ancient Skeletons Are Discovered

ISTANBUL, Turkey—Animal skeletons, including one of a mastodon, dating back two or three million years, have been discovered at Ayash, Turkey, 15 miles from Ankara. The mastodon skeleton, said to be 84½ feet long, was uncovered by workers from the Turkish Institute of Mines and Research while investigating mineral deposits.

Determined Paratrooper

FORT MEADE, Md.—The Army shooed Private Harry Clifford Maynard out of uniform recently for the second time and told him not to come back until after he turns 17. The persistent young would-be paratrooper, from Phelps, Ky., was given his walking papers for the first time since last July, after sixteen months of service in the states. He was only 14 when he enlisted, the Army discovered.

News From Other Alberta Towns

Sub-District Locals F.U.A. Hold Convention At Gibbons

GIBBONS—The F.U.A. locals of Sub-district 1 of District 6 held their convention at the Gibbons Community Hall on June 15. Starting their convention in the forenoon official officers held a full agenda to deal with.

The rainy day and muddy roads were thought responsible for a number of delegates of various locals not being present. Representatives were present from the locals of Namao, Willow Springs, Redwater, Radway, Woodgrove and Gibbons.

Speakers for the day were Mr. Rudolph Konig, president of District 6, of Lamont, Alta.; Mr. Sanford, District 6 director, of Vegreville, Alta.; Mr. Carl Stimpfle of Egremont, who is first vice-president of the Provincial Board, and Mrs. Osbaldeston, FWUA District 6 director.

The main subjects discussed were the financial statement; Marketing Board; the Provincial Building Fund; need of strong organizations to represent policies of organized farmers to the various bodies of authority, and the need of building co-operative organizations to provide at cost to farmers.

Election of officers for the coming year was also on the agenda. Mr. Glen V. Newell was re-elected sub-district director for the F.U.A. sub-district 1 of District 6, with Mr. Glen Storie first vice-president and Mr. James Brydon second vice-president. Mr. Earl Toane was elected secretary-treasurer.

During the discussion on "Marketing Board", it was revealed one man sets the price of eggs, according to statements of various commercial firms, but the government was unable to find out who that one was. An investigating committee had been unable to find out. So it was felt that a Marketing Board would be more beneficial to the poultry industry and would stabilize prices, which would help both producer and consumer.

The International Wheat Agreement also was thoroughly discussed. And while the retiring hour crept up on the delegates present, there still remained many items of interest unfinished.

Thieves Enter Drug Store

EVANSBURG—On arrival at work last Thursday morning Miss Vera Shatzko, clerk at the Evansburg Drug Store, discovered that the premises had been broken into and ransacked by thieves during the night.

Entry had been gained through the north window, which was closed off by wall board from the inside of the building as well as shelves containing merchandise running across this section of the wall. A hole was made to allow a person or persons to crawl through between the shelves.

Two hundred and eighty dollars was missing in jewellery, watches and cash from the register. Dr. Pelletier's office at the rear of the building was also entered and $138 in cash taken from there.

The local and Edmonton detachments of the RCMP are investigating the robbery.

Council Discusses Water Safety Measures

LAC LA BICHE—At the last council meeting the subject of swimming in the lake was discussed at length. Members of the council are anxious to have the parents co-operate, and to instruct children not to go into the deeper waters, quite away from the shore. Should anything unforeseen happen to any of the swimmers, when they go too far out, it would be next to impossible to save them, because there isn't someone there to supervise at all times.

It has been decided that Zac Ingram, local constable, shall supervise, as much as possible between the hours of 4 to 6. There will be a boat plainly marked "For Emergency Only," and it is hoped that everyone will co-operate to make this a safe season of swimming.

The fact that there is a lot of broken glass, fish hooks, etc. around the dock, would also indicate that diving from the pier is somewhat dangerous, as there have been youngsters getting hurt. Until the lake is cleaned up, one does not naturally suppose that the children should stay out of the water. However, they should be instructed as to the hazards, and parents should stress the fact that it can and is dangerous not to adhere to some common sense rules.

The town is doing all it can at present to make the coming holiday season free from accident, but it will take joint co-operation of the poultry industry and would stabilize prices, which would help both producer and consumer.

Achievement Day Held At Bonnyville

EASTBOURNE—The Bonnyville Junior Calf Club Achievement Day was held at the farm of Mr. D. Dumont on June 18. Although the day was cloudy and rainy, it did not dampen the enthusiasm of the young club members. About 35 calves were entered. In the yearling class first prize went to Earl Hillman. Second, third and fourth were R. LaPoint, B. Brennen and Harold MacLean respectively. Earl was presented with a silver cup by Mr. Jim Den, and his calf is entered in the Provincial Field Day at Red Deer.

In the baby calf class first prize went to Emile Dumont and second to C. Quimet.

Mr. Dumont won first in the milk quality competition. Second and third were Mr. Randeau and A. Tillieu respectively.

Very interesting and informative talks were given by the judges and guest speakers, Mr. McCollum, Dr. Donahue and Mr. Umell. At the close of the day ice cream was served with the compliments of the NADP manager of Bonnyville.

Fire Damages Tractor

PEAVINE—As Art Hallows' hired man was driving his big diesel tractor home at noon on Thursday a short circuit developed resulting in a fire which did considerable damage to the tractor. They were unable to get the fire under control with the fire extinguishers available and two tires were completely destroyed and serious damage done to other parts of the tractor.

Preliminary hearing of a murder charge against Charles Desjardins, about 23, will open July 8 at McMurray.

Desjardins is charged with the murder June 4 at Waterway, Alta., of Theodore Bertsch, 36-year-old Edmonton railroad fireman. Bertsch was found dead after an assault.

Onoway To Hold Dairy Field Day

The Cattle Breeders' section of the Alberta Dairymen's Association, and local committees are cooperating with the Dairy Branch and Extension Service of the Department of Agriculture in holding a dairy field day for the Onoway district at the farm of John Hansen, on July 7th.

The program will get under way at 1:30 p.m. and will include the following:

1. A discussion on the dairy situation and outlook, and the future of the dairy business; D. H. McCallum, Dairy Commissioner.
2. Discussion on the production of quality milk and cream by a dairy inspector.
3. Forage crops, rotations and soil conservation; L. H. Peacock, District Agriculturist.
4. Demonstration of dairy type and judging competition; R. P. Dixon, supervisor of Dairy Cattle.

Mr. P. D. McCalla will also be present to discuss horticultural topics with those who are interested in selecting suitable varieties of fruit trees, ornamental plants and pest control.

While this is primarily a dairy field day, it will be of interest and value to anyone engaged in the farming business.

It is planned that the ladies of the Biby Women's Institute will serve refreshments during the afternoon.

Mr. Hansen's farm is 7½ miles southeast of Onoway.

Smoky Lake Citizens Join Friendship Train

SMOKY LAKE—A friendship train which was organized at Elk Point and started at 8:10 a.m. on schedule, then to St. Paul where a group of about 35 friendshippers boarded the train, with them was Eddie Keen and Keensmen with their band, who kept the journey in a happy mood. Bonnyville, Cold Lake, Mallaig and Grand Centre friendshippers joined in. The longest stop was at Smoky Lake where the friendshippers were greeted by the residents of the town. The Board of Trade provided the lunch and the women volunteered to make sandwiches, coffee and cookies and served to them on the barrier behind the station.

Eddie Keen's Band led a short parade through town, a large crowd was at the station to meet the train. As the train progressed closer to Edmonton, more new friends were boarded from Waskatenau and Radway.

Following the tour of Edmonton, the visitors were checked at the Macdonald Hotel where they stayed for the banquet.

Those that joined the friendship train from Smoky Lake were: W. G. Ratsoy, Peter Moskalyk, Bert Troyer, Nick Monchokowsky, Metro Ratsoy, Peter Boychuk, Peter Boychuk, Tom Fernaway, George Elaschuk and Frank Stochel, each wearing a white Western hat.

Jubilee Service To Be Held On Sunday

This is the 35th year since Jubilee has been organized by the Ukrainian Greek Orthodox Church. The speakers will be as follows: Mr. Wm. Departing Teachers Honored By Pupils, Parents, Staff And HSA

NEWBROOK—On Thursday, June 18 a buffet supper in honor of Mrs. Beatrice Grinnell and Mrs. Josephine Stefanuk was held in Newbrook Community Hall. Both teachers are leaving the teaching staff at Newbrook. The hostess was Mrs. Blanche Nuttycombe also a teacher on the Newbrook school staff. After the supper a delightful entertainment was provided by the pupils and honored guests.

Speakers were: Mr. Goresky, superintendent; Mr. A. A. Eckert, representative of the Divisional Board; Mr. Nick Sidor, principal of the school; Mrs. Steve Chahley, representative of the Home and School Association; Mrs. Blanche Nuttycombe, representative of ATA Newbrook sub local.

Comments were made by Mrs. Grinnell, former pupil, and Mrs. August Buerger. Introduction of High School Graduate, Miss Frieda Drésner. Mrs. Paul Yakimchuk, representative WI. Mrs. T. E. Pollard for Newbrook community, presenting the gifts to each teacher from town and country.

Some very excellent musical numbers were given by the pupils of the school: A duet by Phyllis Horyn and Evelyn Gordash, both vocal and musical. Zita Buerger and Clara Kachkowski dedicated a song to Mrs. Grinnell. A solo by Ronald Pollard and community singing by the crowd.

In spite of bad roads and rain, about 150 people arrived to honor the two teachers and useful presents were given to each, silverware and bed linen.

Mrs. Grinnell was the first teacher to teach in the Newbrook school, teaching in a little log shack and seven pupils 22 years ago. Now she teaches in a nice, modern school and there are over 150 pupils, and we all wish Mrs. Grinnell the best of luck in her new school in Edmonton. Our loss is Edmonton's gain.

Mrs. Stefanuk, the junior teacher, a very charming person, is retiring from the teaching profession for the present to look after her two-year-old son and her husband. Her home also will be in Edmonton.

R.C.A.F. SALUTES THE CORONATION — All over the British Commonwealth, celebrations and ceremonies were held in the hamlets, villages, towns and cities on June 2 to mark the formal inauguration of a new Elizabethan reign. In Ottawa, more than 6,000 officers and men of Canada's Active and Reserve Armed Forces participated in the Coronation Day ceremonies, with a third of that number being R.C.A.F. personnel. Symbolizing

Canada's growing air strength, a fly-past of more than 100 R.C.A.F. aircraft, including 50 jets, highlighted the show. Pictured against a background of the Peace Tower of Canada's Parliament Buildings, are the planes that were seen over Ottawa on Coronation Day. Left, top to bottom: T-33 Silver Star, Otter, F-86 Sabre, CF-100 Canuck. Right, top to bottom: Expeditor, Lancaster, North Star, Harvard, C-119, and Dakota.

Jasper Park Big New Lodge Completed In Nine Months

One of the greatest construction feats in Canadian history was accomplished when Jasper Park Lodge officially opened its 1953 season on June 10.

The new central building, which is 40 per cent larger than the building it replaces, was started last August, and a job which would normally have taken at least two years to design and construct was completed in nine months.

Covering an area of one-and-three-quarter acres, the new building is spread over four wings and is the largest structure of its type in the world. Although it is built of steel and concrete and has all the refinements of a modern city hotel, its combination of field stone, log trim and cedar shingles retains the rustic character of Jasper Park Lodge.

Even while George Drummond, Chief Architect for the C.N.R., was making studies for the design of the new building last August, clearing and excavation work had already begun. Then, as the plans quickly came off the drawing board, they were flown to Jasper, and within 24 hours the work was under way. Because of other large projects being built at the time in the west, workmen were hard to muster. To shelter and feed them, railway bunk houses had to be shipped from Edmonton. These buildings formed a little settlement of their own at Jasper. Having served their purpose, they were restored to their normal railway service.

E. E. Poole, of Edmonton, former construction firm head, came out of retirement to tackle the job. It was his personal interest and urging that spurred nearly 400 workmen to meet the challenge and complete the job before the Lodge's 1953 season opened. Even throughout the winter, with a canopy shrouding the framework to protect them from the elements, the men continued to work two shifts a day.

Construction was only part of the problems. Fixtures and furnishings had to be designed and obtained quickly. The output of a large furniture plant had to be entirely luxurious features. Attractive decorations and comfortable furnishings, lend a warm, cheerful atmosphere to the lounge, dining and ball rooms. Wide picture windows offer a spectacular view. A recreation room, shopping centre beauty parlor, barber shop, post office and a bank are provided.

Nearly 4,000 meals are served at the Lodge daily, and the kitchen is 11,880 square feet—five per cent larger than that of The Chateau Laurier. The main dining room has accommodation for 550 guests at one sitting and is half the length of the Central Station concourse in Montreal.

A massive 14-foot wide double fireplace in the main lounge rises 33 feet from the floor to the roof. It is constructed of fieldstone. The lounge itself is .90 feet wide by 116 long. The layout, interior decoration and furnishings have been designed to provide privacy and comfort for the guests.

At the entrance, a cantilever canopy with a sweep of 175 feet and 35 feet wide provides shelter. In the centre of the building, a rooftop to admit the full unfiltered sun. This is the patio, and in the middle of it, surrounded by a pavement of slate, a pool reflects the sky.

South Edmonton 4-H Club Had Active Year

The 4-H South Edmonton Pot Pourrie Club had many social events this season and came to a temporary close for the summer. The events included a Christmas supper to which Miss Whaley, District Home Economist did the judging. Next a skating party which was well attended. To raise money for the club, several dances were held. Everyone enjoyed themselves tremendously and hope a dance is forthcoming at Whitemud. A rally day was held for the Edmonton district clubs and included a city-wide tour and the University grounds. A joint achievement day was held on May 30 at the Edmonton Gardens for the Edmonton and St. Paul districts and proved a great success for this club.

Conratulations go to Doris Schmidt as the efficiency winner. Last but not least, the club decided on a wiener roast to wind up the season. It was intended as a farewell party for Doreen Carpenter, Hadie

Loose Lioness Not A "Gag"

MOOSE JAW — A lioness with fraternal instincts escaped from the wild animal park in Moose Jaw and ran loose for 10 minutes while 300 delegates attending District convention of Lions International nonchalantly ate their supper in the picnic grounds of the park.

Believing the public address system warning that a lion had escaped to be a "gag", the delegates didn't even leave their picnic tables.

The lioness, named "Goldie", has broken out before at Lethbridge where she mauled a child. "Goldie" was recaptured by the park's wild animal keeper and a veterinarian.
